

Gopsons, Thomson and IPP at PWI Tech Forum

By Alok Singh

PrintWeek India hosted the Delhi Tech Forum in partnership with Canon India at the India Habitat Centre on 7 June 2011. The closed door session was attended by more than 40 CEOs of top print firms in the Delhi / NCR region.

This was the first outreach initiative of PrintWeek India to gain traction with Delhi audience in the promotion of the 3rd edition of the PrintWeek India Awards 2011. The entries for the Awards close on 25 June 2011 with final Award ceremony on 25 August.

Among the speakers who presented their views about their firms, Awards and industry in general were, Rishabh Singhvi of International Print-o-Pac (IPP) the PrintWeek India Printing Company of the

Singhvi, Pandey, Bharadwaj, Goel and Jasawla at the forum

Year 2010, Vasant Goel of Gopsons Papers, the Book Printer of the Year 2009 and MN Pandey of Avantika.

The morning kick-started with Ramu Ramanathan, the editor of PrintWeek India presenting a helicopter view on the print industry trends in India. This was followed by Alok Bharadwaj, senior vice president of Canon India presenting his views on digital trends. Later Bharadwaj handed over personalised PrintWeek India cover page mementoes to the winners of the Awards in 2009 and 2010 which included IPP, Gopsons Papers and Thomson Press.